News December 2014

Happy Holidays!

It's the holiday season again! NVIC wishes everyone a Merry Christmas, a happy New Year and a blessed Coptic Christmas. The institute will be closed from December 25, 2014 until January 4, 2015. We love to welcome you all back in the New Year!

New teaching programmes

In 2015 we can welcome again students from The Netherlands and Flanders. After more than two years, MA students Egyptology and Egyptian Archaeology will start their exciting eight-week programme again in January. In February we're welcoming BA students for the spring programme in Arabic and Islamic Studies.

Sinai Conference and Cleveringa Lecture

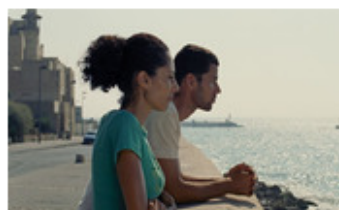

On Saturday 29 and Sunday 30 November, the NVIC organized a multidisciplinary conference on the Sinai Desert. On Sunday night we also hosted the annual Cleveringa Lecture. Read more>>

Newsletter November

Due to technical difficulties, there were some problems with sending out the newsletter of November. Some of our contacts did not receive it properly or were not able to open some of the links. We apologize for this problem and hope we can avoid this in the future.

On the Move

Our November migration theme for lectures and movies will continue in December. Due to the great success of the movie Cairo Exit, it was even screened twice! Don't miss out on the last lectures and movies of 2014 at NVIC! Read more>>

Vacancies

FWO is currently looking for an Assistant Director Arabic/Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies for our institute. NVIC is also looking to hire a library assistant. Read more>>
